

Casual Riders
Take
Significantly
Longer Trips

Casual Riders Prefer Weekends

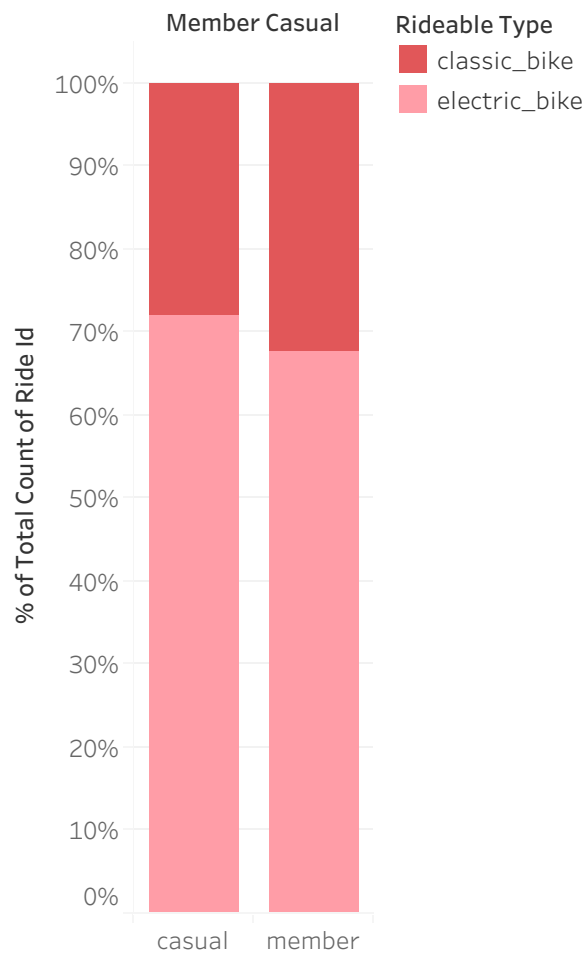

Casual Riders Prefer Weekends

Members Ride Like Commuters

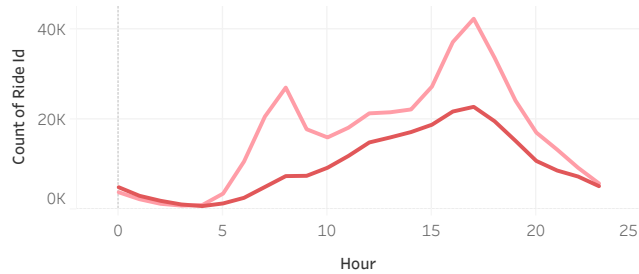

Electric Bikes Are Preferred by Both Rider Groups

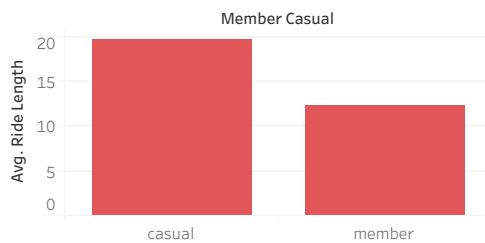

Understanding the Differences Between Casual Riders and Members

Members Ride Like Commuters

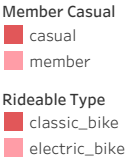

Casual Riders Take Significantly Longer Trips

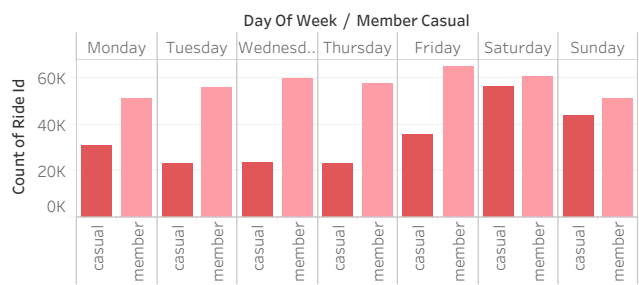

Key Insights

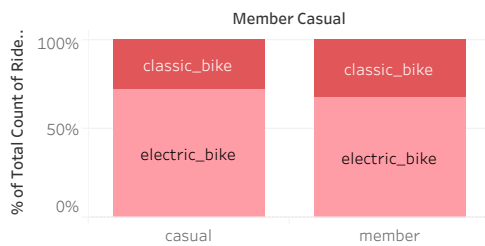

- Casual riders take rides 58% longer than members.
- Casual riders show strong weekend usage patterns.
- Members exhibit commuter behaviour, with pronounced ride peaks at 8 AM and 5 PM.
- Both rider groups strongly prefer electric bikes.
- Casual riders appear to use Cyclistic primarily for leis..

Casual Riders Prefer Weekends

Electric Bikes Are Preferred by Both Rider Groups

Business Recommendations

- Launch weekend-to-membership campaigns targeting frequent casual riders.
- Introduce commuter challenges to encourage weekday riding.
- Position membership as a transportation solution rather than a leisure product.